THEIR CHILD IS MISSING—Mr. and Mrs. James Hampton console each other while police search for their daughter, Kathy, 6, who disappeared late April 30 from their slum area flat in St. Louis. They said Kathy was "too much of a mommy's girl" to have run away. "Somebody must have carried her off," said the father, a welder.

Lock of Hair May Hold Clue to Missing Girl

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A lock of hair may hold a clue to the disappearance of pretty little Kathy Hampton. The 6-year-old girl has been missing since Wednesday. A painstaking search of abandoned buildings, alleys and sewers in the rundown neighborhood around her home has turned up no trace of her.

Crash Claims Second Victim

Herbert N. Fox, 73, Succumbs to Injuries

Herbert N. Fox, 73, of Alliance died Friday at 1:15 p.m. in City hospital, the second victim of a collision between his car and a truck-trailer Thursday night at 7:45 on Rt. 9, five miles south of Salem.

Fox had sustained a crushed chest, head injuries and shock. A passenger in his car, Mrs. Margaret Seymour, 65, of Alliance, was killed instantly in the crash. She received a crushed skull when the car and a truck-trailer driven by Harold Creech, 34, of New Madison collided head-on at the crest of a hill.

Creech was treated for bruises of the head. The death of Mr. Fox is the fifth this year in Columbiana County in comparison with nine at the same time in 1957.

County Coroner E. R. Sturges and state highway patrolmen are still investigating the accident.

Patrolmen located two youths who reportedly had been following the Fox car at the time of the mishap. The truck driver had told patrolmen the youths stopped after the accident and informed him that the auto was traveling erratically.

However, the youths stated under questioning by patrolmen that they had observed the Fox car earlier in the evening and did not witness the accident.

Parts of Fox's car were strewn over a wide area as the result of the crash. Patrolmen said the auto was so badly damaged they could barely tell what make it was.

Two Men Sentenced To Ohio Reformatory

LISBON — Two men were sentenced to the reformatory at Mansfield Friday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard who denied them probation.

Joseph Samuel Marchaza, 19, of Newton Falls was sentenced to 10 to 25 years in the reformatory. He had pleaded guilty to the armed robbery of the Busy Bee Restaurant in Wellsville, Nov. 28.

Judge Buzzard, in denying probation to Marchaza, said the latter's past record did not warrant it.

Judge Buzzard sentenced Carl Lee Hawk, 18, of Wellsville, to one to 15 years in the reformatory for his part in the burglary of the Wesco Manufacturing Co. in Wellsville Oct. 18.

Jerry Hoschar, 20, of Wellsville was granted five years' probation by Judge Buzzard for his part in the same burglary. Hoschar's past record was good, the judge said.

patina search of abandoned buildings, alleys and sewers in the rundown neighborhood around her home has turned up no trace of her.

The possibility that a lock of hair might provide a key to her fate arose after Mrs. Laura Hamerschmidt, operator of a suburban beauty shop, reported Friday a child bearing a close resemblance to photographs of Kathy was in the shop Thursday.

The child's shoulder-length hair was cut short at the direction of a woman companion, Mrs. Hamerschmidt said.

Police took hair from the beauty shop and from a brush used by Kathy for a laboratory comparison. They didn't say when laboratory tests would be completed.

Kathy's mother, Mrs. James Hampton, collapsed early today while listening to a radio newscast about the latest development. She mistakenly understood the newscaster to say a sample of hair from the beauty shop had been definitely identified as Kathy's.

The Hamptons, parents of six children, insist Kathy would not run away.

City Finances Are Reviewed In Audit Report

Salem city government financial transactions are reviewed in a state examiner's report released today by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The audit covers the period between Feb. 2, 1956, and last Dec. 31.

Bonded debt of the city was $2,447,171.02 at the end of last year. During the examination period $191,780 in bonds were redeemed and $34,171.02 in new bonds were issued. There was $67,115.15 in floating debt, the report states.

City expenses exceeded revenue by approximately $170,000, the report notes. Various sources of income yielded $3,699,700.67 while expenses totaled $3,872,579.01, but the examiner notes that the city closed the year with a balance of $170,941.16 in the municipal treasury. ## Light Vote In Primaries Seen For Tuesday

26 Candidates Seek County Nominations; Polls Open At 7:30

Voter apathy is expected to hold down Columbiana County's turnout at the primary elections Tuesday to a maximum of 15,000 — about 25 per cent of the 60,000 eligible voters.

At the last comparable primary — in May 1956 — the county cast 12,667 votes. A total of 8,842 Republicans and 3,825 Democrats went to the polls. The city's vote was 3,589 comprised of 2,336 on the GOP slate and 1,253 Democrats.

Selection of delegates to presidential nominating convention helped boost interest in 1956. Only one tax levy was at stake and only one will be decided Tuesday — in Middleton Township.

The 151 polling places will open at 7:30 a.m. and close at 7:30 p.m. The county has 10 more precincts than at the November 1957 general election. The polling areas were created to divide those that had cast top-heavy votes in the 1956 elections. Two of the new precincts are in East Liverpool and another is in Liverpool Township. East Liverpool now has 32 precincts.

Other new precincts were created in Elkrun, Butler, Fairfield, Middleton, Salem and Unity Townships.

The County Contests
Twenty-six candidates are seeking nomination to county office — 12 Republicans and 14 Democrats. The parties will name candidates for the unexpired terms of commissioner and Common Pleas Court clerk and also will nominate a full-term commissioner. Common Pleas judge, county auditor and state representative.

Although it's a so-called "short ballot" year for county offices, the list of candidates is longer than usual because two posts were left vacant by death or resignation.

There are seven candidates — four Republicans and three Democrats — seeking nomination to run in the general election in November for the little more than two years that will remain in the term of the late Court Clerk John W. Coleman of Glenmoor, who died in January.

There is a field of five — three Republicans and two Democrats — for the unexpired commissioner's term, which also runs through 1960.

Interim appointee in the commissioner's post is Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, who was named by a board of county officials more than a year ago. He succeeded W. A. Southan of East Liverpool, who resigned to become a state purchasing agent. Brian, operator of a men's shop, is one of the GOP candidates for the unexpired term. The others are Mayor Karl J. Lindner of Salineville, a jewelry store operator, and William T. Maple, Kensington funeral home operator.

Democratic candidates for the unexpired commissioner's term are R. Max Gard of Lisbon RD 4, a antique dealer and historian, and Samuel J. Sowards of Lincoln Way, Lisbon, a subcontractor for laying highway materials.

The GOP field for the unexpired term of court clerk is comprised

Policeman Rescues Woman In Fairport

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—For 40-year-old Frank L. Bates it was no vacation.

The Mentor policeman and volunteer fireman was visiting his brother Friday in nearby Fairport when a neighbor's two-story frame home caught fire.

Bates dashed over, huddled a fence and smashed down the front door of Mrs. Jessie Stewart's home. Faced by a dense cloud of smoke, he crawled on his stomach, yelling for the 66-year-old woman.

When she answered he reached her and dragged the woman to safety across the floor of the burning home.

Then he collapsed outside where 15 volunteer Fairport Harbor were battling the fire. Bates was revived with oxygen at Lake County Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Stewart suffered numerous cuts and bruises.

The fire did extensive damage to the exterior of the home and gutted the inside. There was no estimate of the amount of damage or how the fire started.

Assuring local interest in the Republicans' state senatorial contest, Columbiana County furnished both entrants. They are Atty. Walter Jay Hunston, former Salem city solicitor, chairman of the Salem Area Development Council and an unsuccessful candidate for Congress in 1954, and Paul Baxter, former East Liverpool councilman who was nosed out for the senate post two years ago.

They seek the seat now occupied by the veteran incumbent, Sen Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry.

5 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

Highway Patrolmen Cite Three Drivers

Five persons were injured in four district road accidents investigated by state highway patrolmen Friday night and this morning. Three drivers were cited.

Three persons were injured in a crash at midnight last night between cars operated by Arthur Holbrook Jr., 19, of Lake Milton and Harry Blazsek, 28, of Newton Falls on Rt. 18, three miles west of North Jackson.

Treated at Youngstown South Side Hospital were Blazsek, possible skull fracture and possible fracture of the right hip; Holbrook, abrasions of both knees; and George Hoover of RD 1, Lake Milton, a passenger in Holbrook's car, possible fracture of the right ankle.

State highway patrolmen said Holbrook was driving west and Blazsek east when the accident occurred. Blazsek attempted to pass another vehicle, lost control and crashed into the approaching Holbrook auto, patrolmen said.

Blazsek was cited for reckless operation.

Tornadoes Strike San Antonio Area

Rains, Storms Lashing Eastern Half of Nation

By The Associated Press
Drenching rains and thunderstorms soaked the Southern Plains and Mississippi Valley again today and extended a rainy pattern across most of the eastern half of the country.

Locally heavy rain was forecast for eastern Oklahoma, giving rise to the possibility of additional flash flooding in an area already water-logged from an eight-inch rainfall.

Fair and cooler weather prevailed throughout New England, but most of the area east of the Continental Divide had considerable cloudiness with warm and humid weather.

Texas continued to receive a heavy dose of violent weather, with squall lines and thunderstorms.

Considerable damage occurred in tornadoes that jabbed at the San Antonio region Friday.

Fresh rainfall amounts varied considerably in Texas from traces along the Gulf coast to an inch at Austin. Thunderstorms also left an inch of rain at Little Rock and Walnut Ridge, Ark., and at Dyersburg, Tenn.

Showers occurred throughout the Ohio Valley, the Middle Mississippi Valley and the Upper Great Lakes region. A few widely

Ike, Wife Plan To Visit Ottawa

Will Seek to Tighten Relations With Ally

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will visit Ottawa next July in a personal bid to tighten U.S. relations with Canada, this country's nearest NATO ally and best customer.

The White House announced Friday that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will visit the Canadian capital July 8-10. They will be accompanied by Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles on what was officially described as an informal trip.

The schedule is expected to allow time for full scale policy talks by Eisenhower with Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, who invited Eisenhower to visit.

Diplomats of both countries hope those talks will better Canadian-U.S. relations, especially in handling economic problems which have caused increasing difficulties in recent years.

Eisenhower will address a joint session of the Canadian Parliament during his visit.

Diefenbaker's Progressive - Conservative Party, which holds firm control of the Canadian House of Commons, has some outspoken critics of what they consider Canada's economic dependence on the United States.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is said to want increased Canadian trade with Britain and other Commonwealth countries and to intend to make sure Canada's voice is listened to in Washington.

Last year this country exported to Canada $3,800,000,000 worth of goods while Canadian exports to the United States totaled $2,900,600,000. U.S. economists explain that the billion dollar bulge in favor of the United States was made up by the flow of American investment capital into Canada. But even so, Canadian leaders would like to see the trade more nearly balanced.

'Big 3' Report Stand In New Note to Russians

Accept Bid Rather Than O.K. Enlarging Red Representation

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Three reluctantly agreed today that their Moscow ambassadors continue separate consultations with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on preparations for a summit conference.

Britain, France, and the United States said in a new note to Moscow they still had not modified their view that more rapid progress could be made in joint talks.

The West gave in, however, "because it desires to get on with the basic task" of preparing the groundwork for a summit talk, the note added.

The Russians on April 26 rejected a demand for joint talks and said that if the West persisted on this point, Poland and Czechoslovakia also should take part to equalize East-West representation in preliminary negotiations.

The West is opposed to any such enlargement of the preliminary talks for fear of the precedent it would set in future conversations on questions in which the Big Four have primary responsibility.

The Soviet move to bring in Poland and Czechoslovakia was aimed at striking a parity between NATO members and members of the Warsaw Pact. This was seen as an effort to give added prestige to the Russian-dominated Warsaw alliance, equating Poland and Czechoslovakia with Britain and France.

In their note, as released by the French Foreign Ministry, the three Western allies said the fact that they are accepting further separate ambassadorial talks "does not, however, prejudice in any way the composition of any other meeting in the future."

The three ambassadors are Llewellyn E. Thompson of the United States, Sir Patrick Kelly of Britain, and Maurice Dejean of France.

The note said the three will be ready, after discussing the agenda for a summit conference, to take up the questions of the date and site of the conference of foreign ministers. They also will be prepared to discuss what nations will be invited to this conference, it said.

The foreign ministers' meeting would be an intermediate step toward the summit meeting.

U.S. Nuclear Missile Tests Being Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is planning tests soon of short range defensive missiles with nuclear warheads.

The Defense Department announced Friday the missiles will be launched from remote Johnston Island in the Pacific. This island is roughly 1,500-1,700 miles northeast of the Eniwetok Atoll proving grounds where the latest round of nuclear tests is about to open.

Just what missile or missiles are to be tested, the Pentagon declined to say. But their description as defensive could fit the Navy's Talos, the Army's Nike Hercules or a test vehicle leading to the Nike Zeus, designated as the first U.S. antimissile missile.

Johnston Island was selected because it is 540 miles southwest of the nearest inhabited island of the Hawaiian chain and about 900 miles from the nearest other populated island, the Defense Department said.

A spokesman said the missiles to be tested will travel less than 200 miles and that a temporary danger area will be established beforehand.

of J. E. Curry, former president of the East Liverpool Board of Education; John W. (Jack) Peterson of East Palestine, interim appointee in the post; J. Eyer Hinchcliff of Lisbon RD 2, a Center Township trustee, and Charles H. Brant of East Palestine, a former councilman. Peterson was chief deputy for many years under the late clerk.

Democratic candidates for the same post are Edward L. Nelson of East Liverpool, a church custodian; Carl L. Stacey, 32, of Columbiana, an employee of the Enterprise Co. and a son of the Election Board member of the same name; and Robert L. Faulkner of Leetonia RD 1, a former employee of the George Pottery Co. at East Palestine.

The men elected to both unexpired terms in November will take office as soon as the result is certified officially by the Election Board. As the official canvass generally is certified to Columbus within four or five days, the clerk and commissioner named Nov. 4 probably will be certified by Nov. 8 or 9. In the case of a full term, the officials elect do not take over until Jan. 1 at the earliest.

Three incumbents at the Court house, all Republicans, are unopposed for re-nomination. They are Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem, Auditor I. J. Vorndran of East Liverpool and Commissioner Galen H. Greenisen of Salem RD 3.

Five Democrats are seeking the nomination for commissioner to oppose Greenisen in November. They are Robert B. Laughlin, East Liverpool, a pottery worker who ran for the job unsuccessfully in 1956; County Judge Samuel J. Crawford of Madison Township; Councilman Frank C. Wilson of Wellsville; William Briggs of Wellsville and Charles O. Hinchcliff of Washingtonville.

O'Hara Opposes Wetzel
There's a two-way race on each ticket for the nomination for state representative. On the Republican slate, Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon is seeking a fifth term, opposed by Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville, who held the post six years ago. O'Hara won the post at an election at which Wetzel ran unsuccessfully for 18th District congressman.

Wetzel, 59, has served consecutively since 1949 except for the two years he was out of office after running unsuccessfully against Rep. Wayne L. Hays. O'Hara is owner of the W. C. Bunting Co. pottery and active in Wellsville civic affairs.

The Democratic candidates for state representative are Robert Cogan of East Rochester, an electrical contractor and West Township trustee, and John F. Kelly of Lisbon, business agent for the plumbers, steamfitters and construction workers groups.

The Democratic candidate for Common Pleas Judge is Atty. Robert S. Hartford of East Palestine. He was the unsuccessful candidate for prosecuting attorney two years ago.

Hartford and Judge Sharp will be nominated on party slates Tuesday, but in November they will oppose each other on a separate non-partisan judicial ballot. Judge Sharp is seeking his fourth six year term.

The Democratic candidate for county auditor is Kenneth Bell, clerk of Wellsville Council, who operates a grocery.

In addition to nominating for county posts, each party will elect for posts on their county central committees. Democrats have 144 candidates and Republicans have 115. Both slates are incomplete, as the county has 151 precincts.

The lone special issue — the Mid-dleton Township levy — requires a 55 per cent affirmative vote for approval. It is a proposed half-mill tax to provide fire protection.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET

Installation of furniture in the new Senior High school will be discussed when the Board of Education meets Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school.

D. M. Fadely, business manager, will present for discussion the results of the recent poll made by teachers and students regarding their choice of classroom desks and seating arrangements.

Bliss Sales Decline For First Quarter

Sales of E. W. Bliss Company for the three months ended March 31 reflected the continued cutback in capital outlays by industry and a further decline in production, and were approximately 38 per cent below the record first quarter high established in 1957.

Although all divisions of the company have been adversely affected by the decline in industrial activity, the Press Division at Canton suffered the most severe reduction in sales and earnings. Operations of the Rolling Mill Division in Salem and the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division, Cincinnati, were at fairly satisfactory levels during the first quarter, although less than the comparable 1957 period.

The company's backlog of unfilled orders currently amounts to approximately $23,000,000.

Bliss' net sales for the three months amounted to $13,298,659 as against $21,281,363 a year earlier. Profit before taxes was $107,043 as compared with a 1957 first quarter pre-tax profit of $1,678,332. Net income, after taxes, for the 1958 quarter was $58,043. This compared with $787,600 for the 1957 first quarter.

"A substantial order for steam catapults for installation on aircraft carriers has recently been received and shipments of this product should remain fairly good throughout the current year," President Robert Potter's report to stockholders said. "The Rolling Mill Division also received several sizeable orders in the first quarter."

"Because of the depressed condition of the press industry, operations at the company's Toledo plant have been suspended as of May 2 for an indefinite period and all manufacturing activities formerly performed at Toledo are being transferred to the Hastings, Mich., and Canton plants."

The County Primary Contests

Aside from state and district tickets, only three Columbiana County contests will attract the interest of Republicans and Democrats in Tuesday's primary balloting.

John W. Peterson of East Palestine, who was named clerk of courts following the death Jan. 19 of John Coleman, has been assistant clerk for 18 years, but his election for the unexpired term is being opposed by three other Republicans, J. Eyler Hinchcliffe of RD 2, Lisbon, J. E. Curry of East Liverpool and Charles H. Brant of East Palestine.

Mr. Hinchcliffe, a strong contender for the post, is president of the Columbiana County Trustees and Clerks Association and is serving his third term as a Center Township trustee.

For the unexpired term of county commissioner, Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, who was named to the office vacated by William Southan more than a year ago, is opposed on the Republican ticket by Karl J. Lindner, mayor of Salineville, and William T. Maple of Kensington, a funeral director. Although Mr. Brian has gained some experience, Mr. Maple and Mr. Lindner are as well qualified and we recommend either one.

Democrats will choose between R. Max Gard and Samuel J. Sowards, both of Lisbon.

Republican incumbent Galen Greenisen is unopposed for the full term of county commissioner but five Democrats are seeking their party's nomination. They are Charles L. Hinchcliffe of Washingtonville, Samuel Crawford of Lisbon, Robert Laughlin of East Liverpool and William Briggs and Frank C. Wilson of Wellsville.

'Based On Economic Facts'

It will not be easy for critics of Walter Reuther and his top associates in United Auto Workers to bite their tongues after learning that the union plans to cut top salaries and lay off staff employees.

But there is a reason to think twice before reaching the conclusion that the UAW bargaining position has been weakened by its admission that things are tough.

The union has acknowledged the economic facts of its own position. Mr. Reuther may very well have strengthened his position, not weakened it, as far as bargaining with auto manufacturers is concerned.

He has been talking about bargaining "based on the economic facts." Anyone who read his proposal last January for further wage increases, fringe benefits and worker privileges, plus profit sharing and a hand in management, has an inkling of what he could be doing.

There was more to that proposal than met the shocked eyes of those who read it, including the shocked eyes of many members of UAW. It was Mr. Reuther's follow-up of a previous charge that the auto industry was defying the law of supply and demand by letting its prices get out of line.

He was rebuffed for making that charge last August 17, when it was still not being admitted generally that auto prices were meeting resistance. Mr. Reuther proposed a cut of $100 a car on 1958 models and said UAW would take this into account in its 1958 wage negotiations.

This does not sound as startling in late April 1958 as it sounded in mid-August 1957. As a matter of fact, it did not sound startling in 1957 to many automobile dealers who were praying for a price reduction on the new 1958 models that were already being talked about.

The alternative to Mr. Reuther's idea that was rejected in 1957 was his proposal early in 1958 to make the auto industry redistribute its profits after it had charged higher prices on the new-model cars.

It was questioned then whether the proposal was meant to be taken seriously or was the opening gambit in 1958 bargaining—a tough talking point. Whatever it was, or is, the auto industry's negotiators have to talk about it.

They would have to be hard up for conservation if they pointed out that the salaries of the UAW negotiators had been cut and there even was talk of digging into the union's "profits."

At that point, the UAW negotiators would ask, "And how about you?" It could be embarrassing.

Uncoil the Velvet Rope

This is a good place in the calendar to remember that human affairs fall into two general classifications — those that must be dealt with sternly like crooks in public office and those that should be dealt with gently like children with May fever.

This is like spring fever in an acute form. It is the stuff that dreams are made on, you might say. Small boys stare out of windows in school buildings because in their thoughts they are aloft in jets, or hitting baseballs over the fence. Small girls are far away in gorgeous costumes, being gracious and generous to a multitude of admirers, all of whom look like Tommy Sands, and will not take no for an answer.

Toddlers squirm away and make their escape into a world that is full of blossoms and adventure — and are not found until their weeping mothers and frantic fathers are ready for the man with the needle. Teen-agers fluctuate between someone and a jerky form of insanity, and one is as wonderful to them as the other.

The thing to remember about May fever is that you survive it, yourself, if you are old enough to understand why human affairs are not all in the same category. Once were young enough to believe that human affairs consisted solely of doing what came naturally.

It is a time to uncoil the velvet rope and give the rising generation the privilege of getting to the end of whatever it is striving to reach, comfortably, before dragging its errant members back to a sense of duty and the grim realities.

Chances are that someone, sometime, let you have the length of a velvet rope, yourself, and that's why to this day you get soft inside when at last its May.

For a long time now use of it even by (subliminal projection) has been screamingly denounced in many quarters. Use of it on extra tough kid hoods is plainly needed, and New York State attorney general rates an "Oscar" for coming out and declaring for "the availability of nightstick in war on youthful criminals." "I say it is a great crime deterrent," said the attorney general; and he was talking sense.

(And the big luxury broom put up for the winter.)

Strange Bedfellows

When Sky Was Still Limit

By JOHN MOSEDALE

President Warren G. Harding wired, "You have written a new chapter in the triumphs of American aviation."

Congratulations came, too, from Gen. John J. Pershing; from a 93-year-old New Yorker named Ezra Meek, who recalled crossing the country by ox-team 71 years earlier and from other thousands of Americans, many of whom had peered with awe from the windows of city apartments and the doors of farms across the land at the giant plane which had flown overhead the previous night.

The heroes of the day were two young army lieutenants, Oakley G. Kelly and John A. Macready. The date was May 3, 1923. And the occasion was the first coast-to-coast, non-stop flight — New York to San Diego, 2,517 miles in 26 hours, 50 minutes.

It recalls, that date 35 years ago, a time when American technical supremacy was unchallenged. The two young men, acting largely on their own initiative, had "put America far in the lead in distance flying," as editorials noted.

And, the New York Times commented, Lts. Macready and Kelly "have done pioneer work for the Post Office mail service and generally for civil aviation. They have proved that all-night flying is practicable. They have confirmed Brig. Gen. (Billy) Mitchell's judgment that the continent can be crossed 'on a definite schedule of 27 hours.'"

With today's jammed airlines, it seems improbable that a cross-country flight was ever made without sighting other aircraft. With today's instrument flying, it is difficult to picture an airplane in which the only instrument was a compass.

AND WITH today's widespread use of radar and other technical aids, it seems inconceivable that pilots could span the continent guided only by flares at night, landmarks by day, with: "No landing fields, no weather reports, nothing," as Macready, who retired as a colonel in 1948, recalled the other day.

But then it would seem in the realm of ancient history that informed experts would scoff at the idea of non-stop, coast-to-coast flights.

Kelly and Macready faced all these problems as young men with a dream in the early '20's. Both had entered what was then the Army Air Service in 1917, had flown five years without serious mishap and were stationed at McCook Field in Dayton.

Kelly faced ridicule for two years while he talked and dreamed of the coast-to-coast flight. This continued even as he and Macready formed a team which soon broke world air records. (On April 17, 1923, for example, they stayed in the air for 36 hours, 5 minutes and 23 seconds, flying a triangular course for a sustained flight mark. They broke the distance record at 2,060 miles and upped it to 2,541.2 miles.)

Other pilots saw in them a perfect team: Kelly, impetuous and daring; Macready, somewhat older, a stabilizing influence. But the coast-to-coast flight was laughed at, even when Kelly decided he had found the right plane for the attempt — a converted Fokker T-2, designed for eight-passenger transport, with a new 400-horsepower Liberty engine.

The cynics had their day. On Nov. 4, 1922, Kelly and Macready made their first attempt. They set off from San Diego — where both had received their training at Rockwell Field. They chose that date since it was the night of a full moon, on which they depended for light.

SHORTLY AFTER they took off, they developed engine trouble. They pushed ahead — incredibly. In an effort to keep the engine from burning out, they poured all their coffee, soup and condensed milk into the radiator. They were nearly killed as winds tossed the weakened craft around the Rockies. They once cleared a bluff at 5,000 feet by three feet. "No two men were closer to death," reported Kelly. They were finally forced down at Schoen Field, Indianapolis.

Both were shaken by the failure. But both also were braced. Six months later, they were in New York City for another try, their plane specially equipped to carry 737 gallons of gas.

Failure stared them in the face again. After an hour the motor still failed to function fully. They flew the first 20 miles at an altitude of less than 400 feet. Then a regular cut out.

"This was heartbreaking," said Kelly. "Unless we could repair it in flight, we had to turn back." While Kelly flew, Macready removed the switch and repaired it. That ended the mechanical difficulties. They alternated at the wheel every six hours. They were nearing Indianapolis, following railroad tracks, when darkness set in. They flew over Dayton to St. Louis, at 2,000 feet, trusting solely in their compass.

As they headed for the Missouri River, a light rain fell. By prearrangement, flares were lighted in code to show them which communities they passed but clouds obscured the land. As they crossed the Missouri, the moon broke through.

They crossed Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas by night, as sleepy heads popped from houses below and wondered at the great bird attempting what had never been done. Dawn broke near Tucumcari, N.M., and Kelly shouted out loud when he spotted the Tucumcari cemetery — grim, but a landmark each was familiar with.

For, in spite of a strong wind through the night, this showed they had not veered a fraction of a mile from their course — "a marvel of airmanship," said the Times. Macready from the recourse — "a marvel of ready recalled that from the moment "We crossed the Rio Grande till we neared Phoenix, we did not sight a single human being."

THERE WAS another difficult moment. "Macready was at the wheel," Kelly said, "and he had to duck and dodge down canyons and ravines and over plateaus to find an altitude through which we could head over Phoenix. A pathway... was found and the worst of the trip was over."

They landed in San Diego at 12:56 p.m. Pacific Coast Time. Factory whistles and those of ships in the great harbor bellowed a welcome. Officers, enlisted men and civilians at the field broke into cheers and Maj. Henry H. Arnold, who greeted them, said, "the impossible has happened."

The presidential and other greetings followed. Dinners were held throughout the land for the intrepid pair. But today, 35 years after their great triumph, neither plans any sort of celebration.

Both retired as colonels in 1948. Colonel Kelly lives in El Cajon, Calif., and says, "I haven't missed the airplane in any way. I'm perfectly happy in my back yard, tending my garden."

Colonel Macready lives about 350 miles to the north, in Merced, and has a cattle ranch near Yosemite. He says "everything we did then is totally obsolete now. Everything's changed so much — what's it going to be like in the next 35 years?"

The two last saw each other the past autumn when they attended an Air Force 50th anniversary celebration in Washington, D.C. They flew as passengers on a military air transport service plane and Col. Kelly said:

"Things haven't changed so much. We had motor trouble then (35 years ago) and we had it coming back from Washington. Only difference is, we repaired ours in the air. They don't do that now." But if they feel, as they say they do, left behind by technological advances since World War II, they must still take pride in recalling that day when they rewrote aviation history by, in Col. Macready's phrase, "Striking out into the total unknown."

Basis For Confidence

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Conservative Majority Appears In Congress

Something has just happened in Congress which should generate more confidence in the firmness of the governmental process in resisting inflation than anything that has been manifested in a long time.

For a coalition of conservatives Democrats from the South and conservative Republicans in the House of Representatives joined together to defeat the idea of a dole. The original plan, sponsored by the Democratic leadership, would have put the federal government in the position of handing out funds to those who are customarily idle or who do not wish to work and hence are ineligible for unemployment insurance.

Likewise, under the Democratic leadership plan, the federal government was to make grants to the states, whereas President Eisenhower had proposed that loans be made which the states would repay in four years. These loans would finance a 50 per cent extension of payments to the unemployed who are covered by regular unemployment compensation programs.

The President's plan, which was accepted by the House of Representatives, calls for a choice by the states as to whether they wish to extend unemployment benefits beyond the period normally provided. They can have federal help if they want it.

On the roll call vote on the President's plan, there were 223 votes in favor and 165 against. But the division in parties is interesting to note. There were 163 Republicans and 60 Democrats voting for the administration plan and 148 Democrats and 17 Republicans voting against it.

THIS MEANS that, on proposals that could disturb the confidence of men in business and finance with respect to the future of the government's fiscal position, there is likely to be a conservative majority in Congress to block the passage of any unsound provisions.

Ever since the recession began to reach serious proportions and the Democratic leaders started to propose all sorts of laws that would run up government spending to fantastic heights and produce deficits of unprecedented size, there has been uneasiness in financial and business circles as to what Congress — with both houses controlled by the Democrats — might do. In fact, one of the reasons for the rise recently of an anti-radical or conservative tide in America has been the fear of what laws the Democrats might enact if they had complete control of all branches of the government. This is primarily a fear of runaway inflation, with a consequent depreciation of the purchasing power of the dollar.

In next autumn's elections for Congress, persons with fixed incomes will look more closely than ever before at the candidates to determine whether they are on the conservative side.

It is significant that Sen. Knowland, Republican, who is running for governor of California, is in the forefront of the fight to preserve the dollar's value so that persons with fixed incomes will not suffer. There are many millions of retired persons living on pensions in the State of California.

IT IS SIGNIFICANT also that Rep. A. S. Herlong, Jr. (D-Fla.) — another state where there is a large population living on fixed incomes — piloted the administration measure through the House. His bill was offered as a substitute for that of the regular Democratic leadership.

There are normally about 2,600,000 persons in the "labor force" of the country who do not work regularly or who do not wish to work. They, too, can be called "unemployed" but each state has its own standards for determining just who may be classified as unemployed from the standpoint of being eligible for unemployment compensation. The Democrats planned to do what has never been done since the whole unemployment insurance system was set up — to give money to idle persons who are ineligible for the insurance benefits. This would have cost several billions.

There are at present only about 3 1/2 million persons who receive unemployment insurance. This is an increase of two million over what it was a year ago. Those who are eligible for unemployment insurance — paid out of funds built up by a payroll tax — get about $30 a week. In some states, the period for such payments runs as much as 26 weeks.

UNDER THE PLAN passed by the House, the states may extend this by 16 additional weeks. But the money paid now must be repaid in four years or else the payroll taxes in those states would automatically be raised $4.50 a year per working employee to repay the debt. The Democrats wanted to give out the money irrespective of eligibility under state rules and the federal government was to foot the whole bill.

Special credit is due Representative Howard Smith (D-Va.) a staunch conservative who was the first to call the plan a "dole." Around him rallied many other Democrats, mostly from the South.

So long as a coalition of this kind dominates the House of Representatives — and it certainly would seem to be true also of the Senate — fear of a runaway inflation through ill-conceived plans to dole out federal money will be dispelled.

Subsidy For Ships Too

By TED CRON

The case being put before Congress and the Interstate Commerce Commission by the revenue starved railroads is being watched closely by executives of the shipping industry. If the railmen get tax relief, subsidies and other assistance from the federal government, it is expected that shippers and shipbuilders will beat a path to Capitol Hill before the year is out.

The largest casualty in the U.S. Merchant Marine is the privately owned tanker fleet. With a depressed worldwide oil market and U.S. cutbacks in oil imports, American flag active tanker tonnage is at its lowest level in a decade.

On Jan. 1, 1958, the U.S. tanker fleet consisted of 328 ships, with a total of 5,783,113 deadweight tonnage. This was 13 fewer ships than in 1957. Also, the year opened with close to a half-million deadweight tons, or 10 per cent of the total, lying idle. Currently, at least 30 tankers, one in 10, lay up each month because of lack of cargo.

The situation is even less cheerful in other respects. Three quarters of the U.S. tankers were built between 1941 and 1945. Since the normal life of a tanker is 20 years, most of them will soon have to be scrapped. According to the American Merchant Marine Institute, 80 per cent of the present tanker fleet will be obsolete soon after January, 1961.

The prospect of replacing 260 tankers in the next three to seven years is not bright. Only 74 tankers are now on order and many of these will not be sent down the ways until 1960.

Moreover, the trend is away from big tankers. A large number of the ships on order or under construction are between 10,000 and 20,000 deadweight tons, with a few ranging as high as 40,000.

The bigger tankers are being cancelled. Most spectacular of the cancellations was the 106,000 deadweight ton tanker order by shipping magnate A. S. Onassis earlier this year at Bethlehem's Quincy (Mass.) Shipyard.

The charter market is equally depressed. Rates for chartering tankers have been losing ground steadily since last winter, reportedly the worst season in four years. Only coastwise shipping, restricted to American flag tankers, has held charter rates above a workable minimum.

While chartering is weak, with no sign of strength on the horizon, the market for second hand tankers is possibly the most dismal of all. Between January and December, 1957, foreign flag T-2 tanker prices dropped from a high of 4 1/2 million dollars (boosted by the Suez crisis) to a low of $840,000, according to a leading ship brokerage firm. American flag T-2 tankers brought $1,200,000 this winter, representing less than half the asking price of a year ago.

Because of their national defense role, shippers and shipbuilders believe they can ask for — and get — some measure of relief from Congress, as soon as the railroads set a precedent.

U.S. Planning To Unveil Secret Nuclear Reactor

GENEVA, Switzerland — The United States will unveil hitherto secret nuclear reactor equipment for the first time at the second World Atoms-for-Peace Conference opening Sept. 1.

Several full-size nuclear reactors will be in the 30,000-square-foot American exhibit. The big exhibition building is going up now on the lawns of the Palace of Nations, European headquarters for the United Nations.

At the first atoms-for-peace conference here in 1955, the United States installed a working reactor. Many visitors expressed disappointment that the machine did not produce any visibly functioning energy, such as electric light.

American engineers are reported working on plans to make the energy produced by their reactors at the 1958 exhibit clearly apparent to all.

Secrecy still surrounds many details of the two-million-dollar exhibit.

About 10,000 square feet of the exhibition building have been reserved for the Russians but no information has leaked out on what they will show.

Other countries reserving space are Canada, France, Great Britain, Italy, West Germany, Austria, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Belgium, Spain, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, India, Japan, South Africa, Argentina and Venezuela.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Here's How You Can Be Different

Not long ago I met a young minister who told me enthusiastically how "exciting" his job in life is. He was really on fire with his work. I guessed that something special must have happened to him to generate such a thrill. And it had indeed.

Peale

He told me that a seventeen-year-old girl had made an appointment to see him. She was embarrassed and asked that the matter she wanted to talk about be kept entirely confidential. He assured her, of course, that all pastoral counseling is confidential. "I'm so miserable. I'm so unhappy," she began. "As you know, certain magazines, books and movies seem to tell us that the teachings of the church about personal purity doesn't apply anymore. Writers and playwrights make light of it, and in the stories we read not only young people but actually parents, too, are doing things that are wrong. I've become very discouraged, for I can't seem to find goodness anywhere. The boys want you to pay for every date."

"I WAS BROUGHT UP," she went on, "with the idea of being a morally clean girl. But not only books and magazines, even my classmates tell me 'that stuff' is now out of date and old-fashioned. Then the boys come along and give you a big line about how they love you and they make demands. They tell you they're not going to love you any more or continue to date you unless you do what they want." "I just wanted to have fun. I didn't want to give in to what they asked," she sobbed. "But finally I did. Their threats to leave me

DOUBLE DATE

Love and marriage—one of the thresholds of life. Approaching it are the happy strides of youth. Beyond it, joy for some, sorrow for others.

And how long the world has searched for a formula that would test the quality of love . . . a standard that would assure happiness in marriage.

Until finally, with remarkable wisdom, we've begun to realize that it all depends on the individuals themselves.

But, of course, there are two individuals! How can we provide both with the qualities of character that will enrich their marriage?

The Church believes the answer lies in continuous religious training and wholesome boy and girl activities. With deep concern for the individual, the couple, and the community, it is building the character of America's youth . . . safeguarding for tomorrow as well as today the sanctity of marriage, home and family.

Have you a son or daughter? Have they a church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Professor Proposes H-Bomb Electric Generating Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A physicist professor said yesterday it is possible to meet 12 per cent of the nation's electric power needs by exploding two small H-bombs an hour in a specially designed chamber.

Dr. Jay Orare, assistant professor at Columbia University, New York, proposed walling off a section of a deep canyon, lining and roofing it with steel, insulating the chamber with dirt on top, and setting off the bombs inside.

The idea was outlined in a paper prepared for a meeting of the American Physical Society.

So far, the peaceful harnessing of the power of the H-bomb is only a goal which scientists are talking and speculating about.

In another paper, Dr. R. Jastrow of the Naval Research Laboratory here said information obtained from the first Soviet Sputnik and American rockets indicates the atmosphere is 40 times more dense at a height of 250 miles than had been estimated two years ago.

This was the second upward revision of atmospheric density estimates in as many days. Dr. G. F. Schilling, a scientist for the Smithsonian Institution's Astrophysical Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., reported an estimate Thursday that the density is 14 times greater at 230 miles than the Air Force had figured.

Orare noted in his paper that the Atomic Energy Commission has been considering use of underground nuclear explosions to produce electricity. He said that might not be economical.

The proposal put up to the AOC is an extension of the technique already followed in an underground nuclear explosion experiment, setting off a blast in a deep shaft. The theory is that the heat absorbed by earth and rock could be tapped.

Orare would pick a canyon 400 feet wide, box it off with two dams about 700 feet apart, and line the walls with steel plates to a height of about 500 feet. He would put on a dome-shaped steel roof, strong enough to hold a pressure of about 500 pounds per square inch, and cover it with a deep layer of earth.

Two H-bombs each with the equivalent of 10,000 tons of TNT, would be fired hourly to raise the temperature in the chamber several hundred degrees and create a pressure of 300 to 500 pounds per square inch. Water piped through the chamber, would turn into steam for driving turbines to produce electricity.

Cleveland Smashes 11 Hits in Clobbering Baltimore 6-1

Jim Grant Registers 3rd Win in 4 Starts

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jim (Mudcat) Grant, the Cleveland Indians' big right-hander, is rapidly dispelling notions he may be just a pitching flash in the pan.

The 22-year-old Lacombe, Fla., native posted his third victory Friday night, limiting the Baltimore Orioles to six hits in a 6-1 victory.

Archie Moore Decisions Besmanoff

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Condition makes the difference.

Archie Moore was the first to say it after winning a 10-round split decision from Willie Besmanoff Friday night. It was Moore's 11th straight victory.

"That boy was in good condition. He gave me plenty of trouble. You know how it is when you have to jump in as a substitute," explained the 41-year-old light heavyweight champion.

He agreed to take on Besmanoff, ranked eighth among the heavies, after Gene Fuller cancelled his appearance here because of a kidney infection.

Moore, whose 176½ pounds seemed concentrated around his midsection, was puffing after the first two rounds. In the third, he managed to drop Besmanoff, 191, with a sizzling right as the bell sounded. There was no count.

Shaken by the blow, Besmanoff stayed away until the seventh when a combination right and left rocked Archie.

Besmanoff, 25, had a 37-10-7 record going into Friday night's televised fight before 4,900 fans at Freedom Hall.

Judge Walter Bick gave Moore the fight by a margin of 49 points to 45. Judge Tom Nuckles scored it 47-43 for Moore and referee Dan Leslie marked his card for Besmanoff, 45-44.

The AP had Moore on the winning end of a 47-43 score.

Mount Union, Akron Game Set Tuesday

Mount Union College and the University of Akron will participate in an Ohio Conference baseball innovation Tuesday.

The two squads will play a 7:30 game under the lights at the North Canton Memorial Stadium Park in a contest being sponsored by the North Canton Jaycees.

The game will be held in connection with the Jaycees' promotion of their local Little League program which affords many area youngsters the opportunity to play organized baseball every summer.

Originally scheduled for Akron, Zip officials agreed to the move when contacted by the Jaycees.

Mount Union and Akron are traditional rivals and annually rank among the leaders in the fourteen-school Conference in baseball competition.

Three Mount regulars are from Canton — left fielder aGry Stradley (Lehman), second baseman Dave Bracken (Lehman), and shortstop Bob Hackley (McKinley).

Two other Raiders played last summer in the Canton Class A League — captain and center fielder Ray Sulzer (Myers) and pitcher Bob Conkel (Old Dutch).

Chairman of the project is Jack Sponseller, former Mount left-hander who had a 7-1 record in 1953 as a senior.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL

BUYURUS, Ohio (AP)—Oliver A. Bollinger, 67, died Friday in Community Hospital here of injuries received Wednesday. He was hit by a car at an intersection here.

Seven Big Ten Schools Due To Climax Spring Grid Drills

CHICAGO (AP)—The climax to spring football drills is due at seven Big Ten schools today with the playing of annual intrasquad games.

The previews of what to expect next fall are on the docket for Ohio State, Michigan State, Illinois, Northwestern, Iowa, Indiana and Purdue. The other schools have staggered finishes. Under NCAA restrictions, 20 practice sessions are permitted in the spring.

"Our new kids showed some improvement, but I wish we had more than 20 days to work with them," said Illinois Ray Elliot, dean of Big Ten coaches. "I was disappointed with the way we moved the ball in scrimmage a week ago. Maybe it is because we lack the breakaway runners' we have had in previous years. Backfield speed is a big problem. But I'm fairly happy with our development on defense."

The picture is bright again at Ohio State, undefeated in Big Ten action last year in winning the conference crown and taking the Rose Bowl title. Coach Woody Hayes plans to field an all-lettermen 1958 senior team for the intrasquad contest with the exception of fullback.

The other team will include such fine rookie prospects as tackle Jim Tyrer, guards Oscar Hauer and Gabe Hartman, halfbacks Tom Matte and Jim Herbstreit and fullback Mike Ingram.

Michigan State, an early book main contender along with Ohio State, has faced a rebuilding job in the line, especially at end, center and tackle. The first team is shaping up well but experienced depth is not great as usual.

Iowa, likewise, has several key spots to fill and the intrasquad game takes on added importance by showing the progress made in doing it.

At Purdue, 26 holdover lettermen from last fall's squad which won 5 of its last 6 games, have been integrated with some good freshmen hopefuls.

Indiana will unveil its new single wing offense, having shelved the side saddle T. Out of 8 men on the spring squad welcomed by Phil Dickens, who was suspended last season for recruiting violations, 59 are entering their first campaign of collegiate football.

Northwestern is faced with a big rebuilding job and probably must rely more on newcomers than any team in the conference. More than half the squad consists of frosh.

Quaker Trackmen To Meet Sandy Valley

The Salem High School track team, coached by Karl Zellers, will seek its sixth win in seven dual meets this season Monday afternoon when it entertains the Sandy valley thincads at Rely Stadium beginning at 4 p.m.

The meet will be the Quakers' last chance to prep for the Columbiana County meet which will be held May 9 in East Palestine. Last year it was held here. The event alternates between the two towns every year.

OHIO PEDESTRIAN KILLED

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—A hit-skip driver struck and killed Roy Honker, 59, of Rt. 4, Peebles, Friday night. It happened in the community of Locust Grove.

LEAPING PICK-OFF—New York Yankees first baseman Bill Skowron (14) leaps over Kansas City Athletics' Billy Hunter after tagging him out on a pick-off play in eighth inning at Yankee Stadium. Hunter took off from first, after walking, and was run down on throw by catcher Yogi Berra to second baseman Bobby Richardson to Skowron. Yankees won, 8-1 on a four-hitter by their ace right-hander, Bob Turley.

Phils Trimmed By Giants 4-2

Milwaukee Blasted By Chicago 8 to 7

By The Associated Press
The Pittsburgh Pirates finally ran out of pitchers, and their winning streak, which ran to six and carried them to second place in the National League, has sputtered out.

After rolling along behind Bob Friend, Ron Kline, Vern Law and some surprise relief, Manager Danny Murtaugh had to turn to his rookies Friday night and they blew a 5-0 lead while losing to the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-5.

Johnny Podres of the Dodgers became the first to win four in the majors this season, with Clem Labine hurling no-hit relief after the stocky southpaw gave way with arm trouble in the sixth.

The loss plunked the Pirates to fourth, 1½ games behind, while San Francisco regained second with a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia. The Chicago Cubs clung to a half-game lead by overhauling a 7-0 Milwaukee bungle and blasting the Braves 8-7. George Crowe drove in six runs for Cincinnati in a comeback 7-3 victory at St. Louis.

Veteran Marv Grissom saved 19-year-old Mike McCormick's first victory of the year for the Giants, fanning pinch-hitter Bob Bowman and Richie Ashburn and getting Rip Repulski on an infield pop with two on in the ninth.

Rookie Bob Schmidt's third home run counted the clincher in the sixth off Jack Sanford, who lost his third. Repulski drove in both Phil runs with a single and homer.

Crowe's two-run single brought the Redlegs from behind in the seventh against winless Sam Jones (0-3) and he followed with a three-run homer in the ninth. Hal Jeffcoat saved Brooks Lawrence's first victory, getting ex-Redleg Crutis Flood (just recalled from Omaha where he hit .350 to hit into a bases-loaded double-play that ended the game.

A pinch-hit three-run homer by Jim Bolger triggered a six-run seventh for the Cubs and chased Gene Conley in his first start. Then Walt Moryn, who started the comeback with a home run in the sixth, belted another off loser Dick Littlefield in the ninth. Don Elston won his third in relief as the Cubs, who have tagged 11 of the 12 homers given up by Milwaukee made it three straight over the Braves. Wes Covington hit a two-run homer for the Braves in his first appearance since a spring training leg injury.

Camilo Pascual won his first for the Senators, striking out 13 — counting 10 in the first four frames, Sherm Lollar drove in both Sox runs and had half their six hits. Winless Dick Donovan started for Chicago, but gave way when the Nats tied it 2-2 in the seventh. Reliever Gerry Staley gave up his first hit when Rocky Bridges doubled in the 10th.

Sisler, 4-0 against Detroit in his brief career, gave up seven singles, with Reno Bertola and Gus Zernial each getting two. The Red Sox handed Jim Bunning his third defeat as Pete Runnels doubled home a run in the third and singled home another in a two-run seventh.

14 Hand-Picked Horses To Run in Turf Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A hand-picked field of 3-year-old horses, as finely tuned as a Stradivarius, were poised today for what could be the most sensational Kentucky Derby in the 84 years of the turf classic.

After a day of bright sunshine and drying winds had made the Churchill Downs track fast, it started raining again Friday. The weatherman said there would be more of the same today.

Rain could hold the crowd well under the expected 100,000. Post time for the 1¼ mile race is 4:30 p.m. It will be televised and broadcast by CBS from 4:15 to 4:45 p.m. with a 15-minute preview starting at 4 p.m.

The condition of the track will determine the size of the field. Sixteen originally were entered Thursday.

On the basis of 14 starters, the Derby will have a gross value of $160,500, with a net of $116,400 to the owners.

The possibility of an off track didn't shake the standings of the big three—Tim Tam, Jewel's Reward and Silky Sullivan. It is Silky, the flaming chestnut from California, who has turned this derby from a lack-lustre affair in to one that promises to be as thrilling as any ever raced on these ancient grounds.

George Crowe Smashes Three-Run Homer In Ninth

Redlegs Down Cardinals 7-3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts thinks first sacker George Crowe hits better against some pitchers than others. But when the slugger has a hot streak, he apparently hits well against anyone.

Take Friday night, for example. He lifted the Redlegs from behind with a two-run single in the seventh inning and then blasted a three-run homer in the ninth that sealed the scoring in a 7-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Another single in the third inning accounted for another run. A good night, you might say, for a 35-year-old player who started the season with two other men eager to take over his job. His competitors, Steve Bilko and Dee Fondy, are still around.

Friday night's victory boosted Cincinnati up to the National League's No. 3 spot and pulled Crowe up among the league's 10 best hitters, with a .337 average.

Before the Reds nailed down the victory, there were plenty of offensive fireworks, including Don Hoak's second inning home run that touched off the scoring.

The Cards loaded the bases with a double, a hit batsman and Hoak's miff of what looked like a ball destined for a double play in the second. Two St. Louis runs scored when Reds' pitcher Brooks Lawrence booted a bunt and the third scored while Cincinnati was busy with a putout.

Crowe's single added a run in the third, but that was the last scoring for the Reds until the big seventh.

Crowe's two-run contribution was set up when Johnny Temple singled, stole second and reached third on rookie outfielder Vada's safety.

Pinson streaked around the bases to score, but Crowe was nabbed trying to stretch it to a double.

Again in the ninth, the stage for Crowe was set when Pinson singled and outfielder Frankie Robinson walked.

Lawrence almost made it all the way through, but finally had to call on Hal Jeffcoat to finish the ninth after two Cardinal singles.

Jeffcoat loaded the bases before he closed out the game by getting rookie Curt Flood to hit into a double play.

In today's final game of two played here, Harvey Haddix is slated to oppose Wilmer Mizell on the mound.

INDICTED FOR MURDER
CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank E. Gilbert, arrested recently in Georgia, was indicted on a second degree murder charge Friday by the Hamilton County grand jury in the shooting death of Richard Moore, 26. Police said the shooting was apparently over Moore's purchase of whisky.

Zimmer Stars As Dodgers Trip Pirates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Zimmer, the energetic little Los Angeles shortstop, is perhaps better known for his fervor than his all-around brilliance.

But Friday night he showed both in a stunning exhibition of running, hitting and fielding that had nearly 23,000 fans at the Coliseum ready to elect him mayor.

Zimmer's performance reached its peak in the sixth inning, when he stole home.

The Dodgers, who eventually beat Pittsburgh 9-5 and broke a three-game losing streak, were leading 7-5 at the time. There were two out. Gino Cimoli was batting. John Roseboro was on second and Zimmer was on third.

"I went home on my own," Don said. "Cimoli helped me out. He stayed right in there and put his bat out."

"I yelled 'don't swing!' as I came down the line. Cimoli stood there and home plate suddenly became a tangle of human limbs."

Zimmer and the ball arrived almost simultaneously, both on the bounds.

Don hit the dirt and skidded into the plate and the ball struck just behind the plate.

Ohio State Defeats Michigan Nine 8-5

By The Associated Press
Ohio State climbed into a first place tie with Purdue and Indiana Friday by whipping Michigan while the Hoosiers and Boilermakers suffered their first losses of the Big Ten baseball season.

Ohio State defeated Michigan, 8-5; Michigan State pounded Indiana, 10-3; Illinois blanked Purdue, 3-0, and Wisconsin edged Iowa, 4-3. The Northwestern at Minnesota game was rained out.

Vern Baskstall led Ohio State's 11-hit attack with a home run and a triple, driving in three runs. Ron Nischwitz went the distance for the Buckeyes, who made the most of three Wolverine errors and scored five unearned runs. Illinois' Frank Schwartz limited Purdue to three hits, two of them infield taps, while he struck out seven and walked only one.

Dean Look clubbed a homer and two singles in leading Michigan State to its second triumph in four games.

Fred Long's single drove in Bill Mallatt with the winning run in the 10th inning as Wisconsin handed winless Iowa its fourth straight defeat.
